

Managed Staff Augmentation Services

MANAGED STAFFING DELIVERED

Overview

ENSURING COMPANIES DERIVE THE MOST, INCLUDING FLEXIBILITY AND SKILL ACCESS

In recent years information technology (IT) enterprises are seeking to increase their agility, overcome short-term capability deficiencies, and/or accommodate the impact of hiring restrictions. At the same time, many organizations are looking for ways to reduce costs and increase quality and expertise. The need for highly-skilled IT consultants has never been in greater demand. Staff augmentation services can provide the depth of resources when you need it. Whether to keep a project's critical path from becoming a crisis path, or to keep your organization lean while balancing the peaks and valleys of business and resource demand, the engagement of the right contract IT professional is essential.

iD4's Managed Staff Augmentation Services offering gives you access to individuals with proven accomplishments and considerable industry experience in developing and supporting information systems on a wide range of platforms. To stay competitive, iD4 provides a strategic mix of full time development resources and contracted consultants to apply new technology effectively and maximize the use of existing systems. At iD4, we follow a systematic approach to managing variable employee workloads for special projects, software conversion and systems integration. This strategic staffing offers you a cost-effective way to bring together the specialized experience you need for projects of all sizes. iD4 helps augment your team with our experienced and highly skilled resources. Currently we offer the following modes of staff augmentation:

- CONTRACT STAFFING

Resources are on the payroll of iD4 deployed at the client site.

- CONTRACT-TO-HIRE STAFFING

A contract staff can be hired by the client permanently based on the performance of the resource.

- ASSESSMENT SERVICES

Technical interviews are conducted by iD4 experts for the client. Based on the client requirements the team of experts assess the technical skill sets of the resource.
